BRAZIL CONDUCTS WIDE SEARCH FOR MISSING FLYER

Doubles Efforts Following Rumor That Redfern Was Sighted Over Venezuela
Saturday.

MAY HAVE COME DOWN IN MOUNTAINS

If He Landed in That Region It Would Take Him Days to Reach Point of Communication.

By the Associated Press.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 30.—
Every effort is being made by the Brazilian Government to locate Paul Redfern, the American aviator, who started from Brunswick,
Ga., last Thursday on a nonstop flight to Brazil, and of whom no definite word has been heard since.

Regular traffic over the National Telegraph is being delayed to permit of half-hourly long-distance communications over hundreds of miles of Government roads, all attempt to give the latest aviation news may have been unsatisfactory.

The efforts have been doubled since the rumor was received that he had been seen at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon plowing through the sky above the northern rim of the South American continent at the mouth of the Orinoco River.
It is pointed out here, however,
that he should have passed over that region Friday evening, instead of Saturday afternoon; that if he actually passed Saturday afternoon
he must have used nearly all his gasoline.

It is declared further that if adverse winds delayed him 24 hours in reaching the South American continent and he then continued
the flight hoping to reach Brazil,
he probably had to come down at some place where perhaps days would be required before he was able to reach a point from which to communicate with the outside world. This is especially true if he landed in the mountainous region,
somewhere between Brazil and Venezuela, or the Guianas, which are not even well mapped.

The Brazilian Government has an expedition in that region at the present time surveying the boundary, but the central office of the National Telegraphs was advised at 10:30 o'clock last night that there was absolutely no news from there.

Brunswick, Ga., Still Hopeful That Redfern Will Be Found.

By the Associated Press.
BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 30.—A solitary fragment of news—the report that an unidentified plane had been sighted over the delta of the Orinoco River in Venezuela—renewed hope in two continents today that Paul Redfern, missing Georgian aviator, may be found alive somewhere in South America.

Advices yesterday from Caracas,
Venezuela, stating that a man alighted Saturday after saw a plane flying southward at an unnamed point along the Orinoco, caused widespread speculation that the craft may have been Redfern's Port of Brunswick.

The young flyer charted his Brunswick-to-Rio de Janeiro route to carry him a hundred miles or more east of the Orinoco—mouth in winging his way from the Island of Trinidad to a point about 50 miles off Georgetown, British Guiana, where he intended heading inland. Flight officials here pressed the belief that if the plane sighted was Redfern's the aviator probably had been blown off his course or else he had followed the short line to seek a landing place
when his gasoline supply was exhausted. If his plane had been running continuously since he hopped off from here Thursday noon, his fuel would have been running very low at that time.

Advices from Washington strengthened the possibility that Redfern may have reached South America. The Weather Bureau announced that it had been unable to verify reports of a storm along the route from Brunswick to Trinidad, which it was feared might have ended the flight disastrously. A seaplane pilot returning to Miami Saturday had reported a tropical storm in Redfern's path east of the Bahama, when the flyer would have proceeded less than 500 miles along his journey.

ENDS LIFE IN FRONT OF TRAIN; LEAVES NOTE TO A WOMAN

William Reilly, Father of Three Children, Wrote That Woman
Had Rejected Him.

Loitering near a box car on the Oak Hill tracks about 300 feet
east of Kingshighway, as a train approached, William Reilly, a laborer, suddenly jumped in front of the engine about 9:30 o'clock this morning and was killed. A note in his pocket said he planned committing suicide because a woman had "given him up" owing to his failure to stop drinking. He was 45 years old.

Investigation by police showed that Reilly had a wife and three grown children at 280 Branson avenue. He resided at 2846 Cook avenue. His final letter, addressed to the woman he said he loved told her that he had paid up his insurance and that the $500 from his policy was to go to her.

bandana, went out and caught six big cut-throat trout in Lake Yellowstone.

WORLD FLYERS REPORTED TO HAVE REACHED BELGRADE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 30.—
Constantinople today awaited the arrival of the Pride of Detroit, American round-the-world plane,
as the crowning event of the annual Turkish aviation fete. The was arranged by the Turkish Aviation League, the official organization which had planned to sail on the Levantine today, but Levine telephoned
to New York last night and obtained permission for him to stay over.

"Doc" Kinkade, the Wright
motor expert, is to assist in the preparations for the flight of Capt.
Hinchcliffe and Levine. Kinkade had planned to sail on the Lev-
antine today, but Levine telephoned
to New York last night and obtained

YOUTH, HELD FOR
GIRL'S DEATH, FREED
TO QUIT BUSINESS
AFTER 50 YEARS

Mother of Miss Dorothy Wulfert, Who Was Drowned, Declines to Prosecute. Collins.

President D. J. Bradshaw Announces Liquidation of Old Millinery Jobbing House.

SEASON GIVEN IS
DECLINE IN TRADE

Chain Store Buying Direct From Manufacturers Cuts Deeply Into the Jobbing Trade.

"I believe he has suffered substantial mental anguish," Mrs. Wulfert told investigating authorities. "There was no malice in his act. It was all a terrible accident." Dorothy's sister, Viola, 23 years old, who witnessed the drowning, said she was of the same mind as her mother.

The business of the King-Brinsmade Mercantile Co., at 1701 Washington Avenue, for many years one of the leading millinery jobbing houses of the Middle West, is in process of liquidation and before long the firm, which first opened its doors here 50 years ago, will have been dissolved. It is announced by D. J. Bradshaw, president of the company.

The firm, capitalized at $350,000, had an annual business of more than $1,500,000 at its peak, but in recent years this volume has fallen considerably, because of the general decline of the millinery jobbing business, Bradshaw said.

With a home-made wash boiler still and two gallons of whisky, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Johnson, 67 years old, who resides on Woodlawn Avenue, near the Manchester road in St. Louis, offered up prayers for the forgiveness of herself and the Federal prohibition agents.

She fell on her knees and prayed loudly, seeking the divine grace of the Federal prohibition agents.

They waited until the heat was finished then took her to St. Louis under arrest. She was released on $1,000 bond, charged with possession of liquor.

WOMAN, 67, PRAYS FOR AGENTS WHO HOLD HER AS BOOTLEGGER

Federal Dry Officers Seize Wash Boiler Still and Two Gallons of Whisky.

Caught with a home-made wash boiler still and two gallons of whisky, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Johnson, 67 years old, who resides on Woodlawn Avenue, near the Manchester road in St. Louis, offered up prayers for the forgiveness of herself and the Federal prohibition agents.

She fell on her knees and prayed loudly, seeking the divine grace of the Federal prohibition agents.

They waited until the heat was finished then took her to St. Louis under arrest. She was released on $1,000 bond, charged with possession of liquor.

Halfway across the mile-wide glacier the Rhode Island girl slipped into a snow-hidden fissure. The violent jerk threw Bohnenkamp on his hands, clutching desperately for a hold on the icy surface. He caught a rough ledge and held on, until other members of the party were able to pull the young woman up and relieve the strain on him. His knees were skinned and his hands cut.

Mrs. Bohnenkamp and their son, William Jr., with the young man's wife, are with him on their Western tour.

MRS. ELLA BOOLE RE-ELECTED
HEAD OF NATIONAL W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Parks, Connected With Organization, 30 Years, Retires As Corresponding Secretary.

By Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Ella Boole of Brooklyn was re-elected president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, in annual convention today.

The Washington avenue firm now operating three factories in St. Louis and has its own dye mill.

This firm sells many thousands of dollars worth of manufactured products to other manufacturers and jobbers, including complete lines which this firm's manufacturing departments have created, and also a considerable jobbing trade.

"So long as the present policy of buying in small quantities continues on the part of retail merchants, there will be a definite market for the millinery jobber," A. T. U. national vice president, re-elected; Mrs. Sarah H. Hoge, Cincinnati, Va., recording secretary; Mrs. Nelle G. Burger, Springfield, Mo., assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Margaret C. Munns, Evanston, Ill., treasurer.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Des Moines, Ia., president of the Iowa W. C. T. U., national vice president, re-elected; Mrs. Sacco of Miss Vanzetti.

Proposals looking toward tour of the country with the ashes have been definite,"—counted out.

Miss Vanzetti vetoed the plan. Meanwhile the ashes repose in Langone's safe.

Langone said he preferred to hold the ashes, which rest in two copper urns, until he had been specifically ordered to release them by Mrs. Sacco or Miss Vanzetti.

BOY, 6, LASSED AT PLAY, DIES OF BROKEN NECK

Shrewsbury, N. J., Lad Dragged Some Distance by Youth in Cowboy Game.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A game of cowboy, in which a 6-year-old Raymond Rutherford of Shrewsbury, N. J., was lassoed and dragged some distance, resulted in the death of the child in the Long Branch Hospital yesterday from a broken neck. Joseph Billings, a 17-year-old lad, said to be backward mentally, is being sought.

Billings became ill last Thursday after the cowboy game, but his condition was not considered serious until Sunday night when Dr. William D. Sayre ordered him sent to the hospital. The child refused to tell how he was injured until just before paralysis set in, although a rope burn on his neck caused the physician to suspect he had been hurt while at play. William Riordan, his brother, then told detectives of the lassoing incident and search for Billings began.

Resolution Approving Massachusetts Course Withdrawn.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A resolution intended to place the National Association of Attorneys-General on record as commanding Massachusetts for its action on the Sacco-Vanzetti case, was withdrawn at the association's convention yesterday after several of the members had expressed themselves only in favor of dealing with legal aspects of the case. The resolution was introduced by Attorney-General Percy Saint of Louisiana. Its withdrawal came after several of the Attorneys-General declared that they would have to examine all of the evidence in the case before placing their approval on it.

The association unanimously adopted a resolution that President Coolidge be asked to convene a conference of Governors to deal with the question of national uniform firearms regulation.

Girl Takes Baby Buggy for Doll.

A baby carriage which Mrs. Benjamin Rabbe, 2423 North Garrison Avenue, left in front of 3742 Cottage Avenue while she and her baby visited a friend there, was gone when she started to go home at 4:30 p. m. yesterday. Neighbors told police they had seen a 10-year-old girl promenading down Cottage Avenue with a baby buggy like Mrs. Rabbe's. In the carriage was the girl's doll.

Mrs. Grace Stanford and Son Thrown From Auto in Crash.

Mrs. Grace Stanford, 32 years old, of Afton, was critically injured and her 3-month-old son, Claude, was cut and bruised yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding, with Mrs. Stanford's nephew, David Barnes, 18, collided with another car at Compton Avenue and Utah street.

Mrs. Stanford suffered a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain when she and the child were thrown from the machine.

They are at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Barnes, and Obie Sharpen of Overland, driver of the other machine, were charged with carelessness driving.

Figured in Three-Cornered
Squabble Over Tracing
Car of Liquor to St. Louis County.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—J. B. Mathews, whose spectacular career as a prohibition agent included the capture of a rum-running ship and the pursuit of disguised carloads of whisky to various cities in the Central West, including St. Louis, has been fired from the service "for insubordination and dereliction of duty."

His attorneys gave notice of a second appeal to the State Supreme Court. The case was tried in 1923. A jury gave Mathews a one-year sentence, with a $200 fine. He appealed that the law called for an indeterminate sentence. The higher court upheld the fine and instructed the sentence formally today.

Mathews' acceptance of deposit in a failing institution is called an emblem in Illinois law. Mathews told Judge Brown that he was auditor for a Southwestern oil company.

Irvin Hatridge, Formerly of Wood River Bank, Plans to Make Second Appeal.

Irvin Hatridge, former cashier of the First State & Savings Bank of Wood River, Ill., was formally sentenced today by Circuit Court at Edwardsville to one to three years imprisonment for embezzlement in connection with the closing of the bank.

1700 ORPHAN CHILDREN

GUESTS AT ROTARY PICNIC

Seventeen hundred boys and girls from every orphanage of the city were guests of the Rotary Club at a picnic in Forest Park yesterday.

Mathews, whose noseglasses gave a clerical appearance to a face that was distinguished by a drooping, thin-lipped mouth, a jutting, rounded chin, and hard brown eyes, entered the prohibition service after he had been dropped from the Special Investigation Bureau of the Department of Justice.

Announcement of his discharge, effective July 20, was made here yesterday by O. D. Jackson, Prohibition Administrator for Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Alabama.

Mathews, whose noseglasses gave a clerical appearance to a face that was distinguished by a drooping, thin-lipped mouth, a jutting, rounded chin, and hard brown eyes, entered the prohibition service after he had been dropped from the Special Investigation Bureau of the Department of Justice.

Although he was in his fifties, he was more energetic than many younger officers and his methods of investigation carried him over a lot of ground, getting him much public notice, even when they failed to make cases for prosecution.

St. Louis County Adventure.

It was Mathews who trailed a car of liquor from the Gulf to Champlain Crossing in St. Louis County where county deputies, Department of Justice agents and prohibition men got into a three-cornered dispute over who should seize it, with resultant rumors that a high county official was interested in the delivery of the booze.

Mathews came on the scene then, as he did on many other occasions, clad in khaki shirt and riding breeches and leather puttees. He carried a rifle in the crook of his arm and a pistol in his hip pocket. He was every inch the untiring for the rum runner.

Sheriff reviewed efforts to bring about a better understanding between newspapers and the legal profession.

Each profession is too often judged in the eyes of the public by its poorest, rather than by its best members," he said, "and in this we find a ground of mutual sympathy and understanding. It is taken for granted that all thoughtful Judges, lawyers and journalists now recognize the destructive effect of sensational publicity concerning courts and trials.

"At first impression the readers of such stuff would naturally assume the motive, and the blame, to the newspapers alone. And, there, of course, it properly belongs, but not entirely.

"Sensational stories about trials of shocking crimes, scandalous divorces and other morbid cases only partly with the newspapers, and 'too often bears the earmarks of having been instigated by lawyers,' declares Andrew R. Sheriff, chairman of the American Bar Association Committee of Co-operation between the Press and Bar, in a report made public today.

Sheriff reviewed efforts to bring about a better understanding between newspapers and the legal profession.

At the close of his investigation of whisky running to northern cities Mathews was made "Deputy Administrator." While acting in that capacity he and a petty officer of a coast guard boat were kidnapped by the crew of the Arseno J., a whisky runner, according to a report by Mathews as told to a reporter.

Nine days later Mathews was released by the crew of the Arseno J. was a fugitive.

Mathews came on the scene then, as he did on many other occasions, clad in khaki shirt and riding breeches and leather puttees. He carried a rifle in the crook of his arm and a pistol in his hip pocket. He was every inch the untiring for the rum runner.

As the affair turned out, it was in the Federal building that he had been active in trying to obtain political support for his advancement in the service. Administrator Jackson refused to comment on that point, or on a rumor that the story of the seizure of the Arseno J. was a fabrication.

Later he followed other cars to Kansas City, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other points. One of the cars was followed to Main and Bladie streets, St. Louis, where the whisky was taken from its protecting camouflage of green corn, and destroyed.

Later W. A. Walsingham, a leading New Orleans bootlegger, was arrested on a charge of shipping whisky to St. Louis, Indianapolis and Kansas City. He is now at liberty on $50,000 bond charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

There are some things that it would be improper for me to discuss, for the good of the service," he said. "I can say only that Mathews was released for insubordination and neglect of duty. That covers a wide field."

Later W. A. Walsingham, a leading New Orleans bootlegger, was arrested on a charge of shipping whisky to St. Louis, Indianapolis and Kansas City. He is now at liberty on $50,000 bond charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

MAN SLAIN IN DETROIT KNOWN
AS RACE SWINDLER

Body Found in Auto, With Dead Woman, Identified
by Friends as That of Mark Tillery.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 30.—The body of a man, known locally as L. McCall, which together with that of a woman was found in a stolen automobile parked in a downtown alley last week, has been identified as that of Mark Tillery, internationally sought confidence man, according to police.

The body of the woman was identified today by Mrs. R. C. Oliver of Seattle, Wash., as that of her sister, whom she had not seen for several years. Charles F. Tillery of Atlanta, Ga., identified the body of the man as that of his brother whom he had not seen for four years.

Tillery, according to police, recently was identified by a gang of race track swindlers operating out of Florida and Havana. He also was sought in Atlanta officials.

Last year Tillery and a number of associates were suspected of complicity in the attempted druging of a number of horses at the Windsor track. The plot was discovered when one of the gang was said to have tipped off officials. Oscar Bacon was arrested and fined for the offense.

Gang Split by Dissension.

Shortly after the affair at Windsor, according to officials, dissension broke out among members of the gang because of the tip-off, and open warfare between two factions broke out.

A number of men, thought to have been members of the gang, subsequently were found slain, including Earling Norras of Minneapolis, another widely sought confidence man, and John Lee Masters, alleged leader of the gang. Norras was killed by a man armed with shotgun who invaded a gambling house in Detroit.

Last week police were called to a fashionable downtown hotel on reports of a revolver fight and found Bacon and Andrews Potts, a gambler, seriously wounded. Two men and a woman escaped. Two days later Tillery and the woman, thought to have been his wife, were found in the car, dead from bullet wounds.

Friends Call It Suicide.

Bacon and Potts said that Tillery, crazed with drugs and fear that he was next on the list to be "executed" by his erstwhile confederates, shot his wife and then committed suicide. Bacon and Potts, who claimed to have been friends of the dead man, declared that they grappled with Tillery in an attempt to wrest the weapon from him and were both wounded.

Once Arrested for Crime.
Commissioner Warren unearthed the hitherto unavailable record of Graham's activities during the two years and eight months he was a member of the police force. This showed the patrolman, on various occasions had been "absent on patrol—in candy store," or "absent from home two hours," and other minor infractions of the regulations. Details of one occasion when the patrolman was arrested and charged with a crime also were brought out.

On Dec. 21, 1925, Graham was arrested on a charge of felonious assault, growing out of the shooting by him of Samuel Erstrach, a waiter in a restaurant. Graham said he had dropped his service revolver, grabbed for it and pulled the trigger accidentally. The bullet struck the waiter in the chest. The

IN MURDER AT WEST FRANKFORT

Wayne Sprague, Who Admits Part in Resort Killing, Says Birgerite Guarded Door for Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BENTON, Ill., Aug. 30.—Harvey Dungy, who attempted to take Charlie Birger's place as a Southern Illinois gang leader last fall after Birger had run afoul of the law, yesterday was implicated by Wayne Sprague, a former associate, in a murder on April 10 last in West Frankfort.

Sprague, who like Dungy is under penitentiary sentence of 10 years to life, for a raiding of a Negro dice game yesterday pleaded guilty. Circuit Judge Miller of the murder of Jack Sepinsky and was sentenced to 40 years in Chester penitentiary.

Sepinsky was killed in a holdup at "Big Ann's Place" a West Frankfort resort. In a statement to Judge Miller, Sprague said that Dungy and another man, still at large, stood guard outside the place while Sprague and a youth known as "Blackie the Kid" went in to hold up the habitudes of the place.

"Sepinsky grabbed me," Sprague said. "I couldn't use my pistol, but Blackie put his pistol up against him and shot him. Then we ran out. Dungy was waiting for us with a .41-caliber revolver in his hand."

State's Attorney Martin, whose vigorous prosecution of the Birger gang has brought its chief within the shadow of the gallows and others to the penitentiary, is planning to prosecute Dungy for the Sepinsky murder, using Sprague as a State's witness.

Sprague has made to the State's Attorney a clean breast of the operations of Dungy's small gang from a filling station on the hard road south of West Frankfort.

Dungy, as has been told, confronted his victim last night and impaled himself in testimony against Carl, Earl and Bernie Shelton for the Collinsville mail robbery. As a result of his statement the Sheltons were released on bond from Leavenworth penitentiary pending a new trial.

Art Newman Back to Prison After Telling of Kincaid Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 30.—Art Newman, a Birger gangster, arrived safely at Chester penitentiary at 8 o'clock this morning. Sheriff Dunbar advised local authorities to-day by telephone. Newman, who had been testifying before a Christian County grand jury in regard to the attempted robbery of a Kincaid bank, started for Chester at 3 a. m.

LEGAL WRIT STOPS BISHOP FROM USING CHURCH FUNDS

Belleville Court Issues Injunction to Restrain Expenditure of $51,000.

The Right Rev. Henry Althoff, Bishop of the Diocese of Belleville, and the trustees of St. Luke's Catholic Church were restrained in an injunction suit issued this afternoon from diverting $51,000 belonging to St. Luke's parish to other church enterprises.

The restraining order was issued at the request of score of St. Luke's parish members, who charged that the Bishop repeatedly had requested the money for other uses than for which it was acquired. It was raised by members of the parish to meet parish needs.

A few days ago Bishop Althoff transferred the Rev. Father Hartung from the pastorate of St. Luke's Church. The injunction bill recites the pastor was removed because he would not acquiesce to the Bishop's wishes relative to the money. Bishop Althoff declined to comment.

BID FOR WATER BASIN BELOW ESTIMATE OF CITY

Frazier-Davis Construction Co. Offers to Build 3,000,000-Gallon Receptione for $187,665.

The Board of Public Service to-day received bids for construction of a 3,000,000-gallon clear water basin, a unit of the new Missouri River waterworks. The low bid was $187,665, from the Frazier-Davis Construction Co., which likely will receive the contract.

It had been estimated by the city that the work would cost $270,000. The basin, of concrete, will be nearly as big as a city block—200x150 feet, and 15 feet deep.

O'FALLON ROAD MADE FINAL

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today placed a final valuation of $10,000 as of June 30, 1919, on the Laclede & O'Fallon Railway, the long fight of which to break down the commission's method of valuation for recapture of earnings is still in the courts.

In fixing the final valuation, the commission said the road had protested against the tentative valuation but had made no arguments in support of this protest at hearings called by the commission. The tentative valuation, therefore, was made final.

The road operates a short line from East St. Louis, Ill., to one of its mines.

AUCTION BRIDGE

By Milton C. Work.

It is probable that as long as Auction Bridge is played, there will be some who disagree with the opinion which has been endorsed by authorities and experts, and proven by years of play to be winning theories. As an example of this, there are some who still believe that it is advantageous to bid short Minor suits initially. A short suit is one that contains three cards or less; a long suit, one that contains four cards or more. It may be set down as the soundest of all sound doctrine, agreed upon by all experts, that a short suit should never be bid originally, but the holding of a Ace-King-Queen does not justify the bidding of such a suit. In making an initial bid of one, a Minor is on a par with a Major; both requiring exactly the same combination of length and strength. The players who bid with short Minor holdings are still following the practice that was necessary when Spades were worth but two, Clubs only four and Diamonds six per trick. Then took six Clubs to overall two No Trumps, and a Minor bid was merely a scratch. The information may be of introductory purpose, but full knowledge that a suit cannot compete in the auction with No Trump, or with a Heart (then, as now, worth eight). In the isolated cases in which a Club, a Spade, or even a Diamond, obtained the contract, the points gained were not apt to be important. Now, however, when Diamonds are worth seven, Clubs worth as much as Diamonds were in the old days, and Spades advanced from two to nine, we have Major and Minor suits, the Majors—Spades and Diamonds—requiring only four odd to make games from a lone minor, and the Minors—Diamonds and Clubs—requiring five. With the new values, Minors are as forceful as the Majors for pushing an adverse No Trump, and also as forceful as a Heart for pushing a Spade. Furthermore, with the improvement in the skill of play, they frequently prove to be game winners themselves. The opportunity to bid Minors to the limit often drives adverse bids upon the rocks, and the ability fully to avail himself of the opportunity now afforded by bidding Minors, is one of the best tests of the skill of the modern declarer.

The new honor count furnishes an additional incentive to bid Minor suits, especially with four or five honors in one hand. Eighty, ninety or one hundred points more than compensate for a set of fifty points, and goes a long way toward compensating for any ordinary set. Even three, four or five Minor honors divided between two hands are worthy of consideration under the new honor count.

The player whose Minor suit can be depended upon to announce length, accomplishes five results, all of which are quite unobtainable by the player who may be bidding a short Minor:

1. He wins games with Minor declarations which his partner would not dare support it in doubt as to the length of the suit.
2. He pushes adverse bids to contracts which they cannot fulfill.
3. He is allowed to play declarations which produce some results in deals in which the adversaries would otherwise have gone game or notched a good score.
4. He does not place his partner in an embarrassing position by compelling him to take out all initial Minor bids.

5. When the bid is overcalled, his partner knows what suit to lead; this being especially important when the contract is No Trump.

Players who bid short Minors as No Trump invitations get their partners into all sorts of trouble in four ways:

- (a) The partners will at times feel obliged to help the Minor and, if it be very short, the result is disastrous.
- (b) The partners (fearing that the Minor is short) will at times fail to help it when it happens to be long and, in consequence, valuable opportunities are lost.
- (c) The partner may feel obliged to take out the Minor with a weak hand and heavy penalties may ensue.
- (d) When the contract is obtained by the opponent who sits over the Minor bid, the partner may fail to lead the Minor for fear it will establish a long suit for the adversaries and the lead may be essential. Or he may lead it in case in which it is the lead most desired by the declarer.

With all material gain in sight when the bid is overcalled, the risk might be well worth taking, but there is none. Any hand with which the partner could go game with the assistance of a short Ace-King suit plus an Ace or King on the side (anything much stronger would be an initial No Trump) would be bid by him even after an initial pass; so the benefit of the bid, even under the most propitious conditions, is negligible. Sound bidders, sitting in a Third Hand position, do not pass hands containing six tricks merely because of the risk. They failed to make an initial bid. The consecutive set of years has proven that the bid of a short Minor as a No Trump invitation is without merit. Unless the partner have such strength that he can go game and consequently would bid without invitation, what can be the advantage of inviting him to bid a No Trump which cannot produce

A GIRL FROM THE OZARKS SEES A BIG LEAGUE GAME

By Mae Traller.

It was a success, for Alexander Bell hit the sign and got a pair of six the very thing he wanted.

By MAE TRALLER.

In a way I had been prepared for the big game. I had been to a movie part with the marvelous lights, the gorgeous interior and the wonderful statuary—and the pictures had impressed me to the point of utter speechlessness. I had known the sensation of sinking into deep carpets, and fervently hoped the worldly-wise usher hadn't guessed that I was a country girl from the heart of the Ozarks where the picture shows are put on only on Saturday nights, and are films made when hair and skirts were made when hair and skirts were long. Also I had lunched—worn eaten dinner—at one of the most exclusive tearooms in St. Louis. I had gone there, expecting to be served humming bird bread and air grape, but instead was informed that the special of the day was roast beef and cabbage. The management would have perfected the service had it added the beautiful gesture of placing a rolling pin at each place.

But you can see I was in a way prepared for the big game.

I expected to be led up to a wire writers and typewriters and instruments along so they could keep on with their work and watch the game all at once. I thought the ball park keepers had been very nice to them, for they had been given a seat in the front row, right where they could see in a minute if the batter cheated—as he does here in the hills sometimes. These men were awfully industrious, for when other people were yelling like mad at some men running around a diamond-shaped path on the ground below, the typists and telegraphers just kept right on with their work as if nothing had happened. It didn't bother them at all.

Then there were two men sitting on a iron chain just behind the batter and, funny, bow-legged man wearing a queer looking bib. These two men were talking constantly to a warming pan which was set up with its handle stuck in the ground. Every time I looked at these men they were talking just as Aunt Jane Wilkes and Miss Bailey do when they discuss Evelyn Tarbutton's latest scandal, over the back fence.

The funny, bow-legged man seemed very much at home, and he acted as if he wanted to play, for he stayed right behind the batter with his hands in his pockets and a wide grin on his mouth. But once I saw him sink a stretching ball out of the box into the ground. He must have had a dozen pockets, for he hid every ball somewhere about him, and not a one of the ball players caught him at the trick. In fact nobody else seemed to see him, and I felt that I would have made a pretty good Sherlock Watson, myself. I guess that man intended giving the ball to his kids when he got home.

PETTY soon a man called Alexander Bell—or maybe it was Lester Pete—took the bat and pounded it on the ground in front of him. Everybody cheered, so I supposed that Lester was giving the pitcher to understand he couldn't put anything over on him. But he kept letting balls pass and not saying them until I began to feel a bit disappointed and wanted to tell him that the pitcher was throwing balls at him—when all at once he raised his bat and smashed a terrific one.

rolled out the biggest canvas in the world and began running with it toward the place where the game had been played. As they ran one man fell down and was rolled over and over in the canvas. When at last he rolled out he had to be carried off the field, so I guess that wasn't on the daily program. And he kept letting balls pass and not saying them until I began to feel a bit disappointed and wanted to tell him that the pitcher was throwing balls at him—when all at once he raised his bat and

WOMEN'S CLUB Admits Men

WHEN the club women of San Francisco have a good thing to say, they believe in letting the men in. This applies to the Inter-Women's Club Building planned, built and furnished by the San Francisco Women's Building Association at a cost of about $100,000, the latest string of which has been put out for men who wish to become life patrons for the sum of $500 each.

The building was constructed for the purpose of furnishing a room for the activities of various civic and professional organizations and clubs to supply club meetings and a meeting place for organizations which needed such a room.

The building association developed rapidly, expanding programs of its own in such fields as adult education and art. Now in broadening its aims still further, it is inviting men to become patrons with a very favorable report.

According to a member of the committee in charge in enrolling new patrons, this step was taken to broaden the scope of the building's usefulness to aid the whole community and strengthen the financial structure of the new project. The association has assumed indebtedness which in ordinary course would take years to clear.

Men can only become patrons, membership and control being participated in exclusively by the female sex, but the patrons are offered for use virtually all the club features of the building except the swimming pool. Reading rooms, library and dining room are open to patrons and men with their wives from out of town may use the building as a hotel. Firm executives who become patrons may enroll women members of the firm as members of the association and obtain privileges for visiting friends and customers.

The association has upward of 5,000 members, about 25 of whom live within the city and with the enrollment of a large list of male patrons the newly completed building is expected to cover a very wide field of usefulness in the social, civic and commercial life of San Francisco.

Decolettes Are Wider.

It is practically impossible to get the neckline of evening dresses any lower in the back than it has been, but dressmakers have succeeded in getting it wider in the back. Many openings now are following the U-shaped contour rather than the formerly popular V. Frequently only the narrowest of ribbons or strings of rhinestones hold the dress over the shoulders.

Steam Heat
Whenever You Want It!

STEAM heat as you want it... turned on and off whenever you like... paid for as you use it... no expense when you are not using it... that is the convenience of gas steam radiators.

Simply strike a match... that's all... each radiator is a heat unit in itself... looks like any other steam radiator but holds a body of water one inch deep over a burner which is enclosed in a cast iron combustion box. There is no dirt, no ashes, no dust, no smoke and no labor when gas steam radiators are used... gas steam heating is adaptable to new or old buildings.

Learning by Experience

By Lucy Lowell

Did you ever consider how unrounded contour replaces an accentuated thinness requires several different exercises, but it can be done within a surprisingly short time if one is conscientious in his efforts.

The first of the neck developing exercises necessitates lying flat on the back on a couch with the head hanging over. The head is brought up and over until the chin touches the neck. Relax and repeat three times.

To develop the muscles along the front of the neck it is necessary to reverse the position so that you are lying face downward. The head is then raised backward and upward as far as possible. Repeat 10 times.

He would rather go through with an undertaking on his own even though the ultimate result were not quite all it might be than to achieve perfection under the direction of someone else.

And it is a good thing this is true. It is only by experience we grow and extend our subjective thinking that we must acquire for ourselves.

We read and hear of and see the experiences of others and learn something from these. But that is theoretical knowledge: the actual practical understanding comes from our own living and doing and thinking.

We learn to do only from doing. There is no other way.

The first 10 years of a child's life largely determine the next 60

Help a child properly during his first ten years and he will probably go through life healthy, vigorous and active.

Butter contains two of these vitamins A and D.

Vitamin A makes a child grow.

Vitamin D is definitely known to build strong bones and healthy bodies.

These are facts amply proved by scientific test.

Nutritional authorities endorse butter

Food is about the most important thing in a child's life. For example, take butter:

A large number of physicians were recently asked as to the growth-producing effect of good, pure butter.

Every one who replied stated unfailingly that good, pure butter possesses unusual food properties for children.

On this point, the noted authority, James J. Walsh, M. D., in his book, "Eating and Health," says:

"Butter is an extremely valuable fat... Without butter used as plentifully as it is there would be much more need of laxatives than we have even at the present day and the cutting out of butter from the dietary should not be undertaken lightly or without careful consideration."

What is this health quality in good, pure butter?

The butter fat in good, pure butter is very digestible. But the most important fact is the vitamins that butter contains.

Butter contains two of these vitamins A and D.

Vitamin A makes a child grow.

Vitamin D is definitely known to build strong bones and healthy bodies.

To omit these important vitamins from a child's daily ration may result in lifelong tragedy.

The butter

for growing children

Many foods recommended for health and growth are not well-liked by children. They are "forced" foods.

But good, pure Blue Valley Butter! Doesn't every child want it?

For your final protection Blue Valley comes only in triple-sealed packages—one pound or one-half pound sizes. Also in the popular quarter-pound "sticks" for cutting butter. It is never sold in bulk.

Buy a Pound or two. Try it. It has wonderful flavor. And as a food for growing children, it stands at the top.

If not at your dealer's, telephone us. We will gladly arrange to supply you. Blue Valley Creamery Company, 2722-24 Pine St., St. Louis, Telephone Jefferson 2943.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

J. L.—President Coolidge was born July 4, 1872.

MAGGIE.—The address you wish for the National Prohibition Administration is 1110 Locust Street, St. Louis.

CORINNE.—You will get satisfactory advice about ridding the plants of insects by telephoning or writing Shaw's Garden.

G. K.—The rubber life raft mentioned in the article quoted may have been similar to those with Lieutenant Commander R. E. Byrd's life raft. The raft had low, inflated sides. The wash of the waves "necessitated raid bailing," or dipping out of the water as stated.

WONDERING.—Rust may be removed by covering the spots on the cloth with lemon juice and placing in the sun. Javelins water may be used to remove rust. On packages of chloride of lime you will find directions for a proper solution to bleach clothes. A solution will destroy clothes.

READER.—As you are uncertain about the person in Bristow, Ok., getting the letters you may register the name of the person when you register it in the post office that you be sent a return card advising you that it delivered. The name should be in upper left corner the name of the sender, and if you send yours this way they will be returned if not delivered. You may ask the post office in any city to help you trace a person.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

P. B. X.—You cannot yet get a birth certificate asked for in connection with your passport; you may get an affidavit regarding the date and place of your birth from two or three persons who know the facts. That will be sufficient.

G. G.—We do not think it will be necessary for your father to go to law to return to Missouri to get his pension. Write again stating what kind of pension you refer to. What was his service?

J. A. M.—You probably have good grounds for a claim. The date of your birth will not prevent you from getting a judgment but it may be difficult to collect the judgment. We cannot give names of lawyers.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

BILL.—The surgical operation is the only and only cure for the condition you mention. The best way knowledge and belief.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.—Any such as failing to heal should be examined to determine its true character since it may be malignant. If so should have proper and prompt attention. This examination will be made free of charge at the Barnard and Barnes Hospital, Washington and Theresa avenues.

R. WOEMMEL.—The following should correct the trouble: Powdered bicarbonate of soda, 2 drams; cologne water, 1 ounce; alcohol, 2 ounces; distilled water, 1 pint. Mix, shake and drink daily.

JANE.—You should be relieved by taking one or two teaspoonsful of bisulphite of carbon in half glass of water before meals. Take systematic, outdoor exercise, abstain from tea, coffee and alcoholics and correct constitution if present.

NEWTON MAY RUN
FOR GOVERNOR,
NOT FOR SENATE

Importuned by Leaders to Enter Race as the One Man Who Can Carry State for G. O. P.

"I DON'T SEE HOW I CAN AFFORD IT"

Ex-Congressman, Anxious to Retire to Earn Money for Family, Will Determine His Course Later.

By CURTIS A. REITS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post Dispatch.

MILANUA, Mo., Aug. 28.—The one Republican question in Missouri for many weeks in the minds of the rank and file of party workers, as well as the so-called leaders, has been, Is Cleveland A. Newton going to run for Governor? It will be betraying no confidence to say that the same question has occupied an inconsiderable part of Newton's time in the several months he has been in the state recuperating from a serious illness and ineffectually trying to impress the importance of his friends and others who have sought him out to impress upon him their political views. The Tenth District Congressman, who voluntarily relinquished his seat, to which he probably could have been re-elected, as often as he cared to be, because he wished to return to the practice of law, is having a difficult time reaching a decision on the question of becoming a candidate for the nomination for Governor.

30 Years in Public Life.

The bare fact is that in some 30 years of public service as a member of the Legislature, Assistant United States District Attorney in Kansas City, Mo., Assistant Circuit Attorney in St. Louis, Special Assistant United States Attorney General and eight years as a member of Congress from the Tenth (St. Louis) District, Newton has not feathered his nest. There have been and are men in public life in Missouri who have grown at least moderately wealthy through the private practice of law, while holding official positions, but Newton is not one of them.

Now, beyond 50 years of age, he has taken stock and the necessity for devoting the remaining productive years of his life to an earning which will be in recognition of his obligations to his family, has presented itself to him.

A Profitless Job.

Public service to a man of Newton's viewpoint provides only a comfortable living. It does not present the opportunity of having anything for the day when earning power will be gone. Should he be an candidate for the Governorship, it would mean five years taken out of the years remaining to him. One of the five would mean a very considerable expenditure in the primary and general election campaigns. The other four, if he were elected, would be a service to the public at a salary of $5,000 a year, plus a few extra to bring it up to about $6,500. Neither Newton nor anybody else can have any thing remaining from that salary when in the office for Governor.

The Plea of Party Necessity.

And yet this is the way leading Republicans have presented the matter to Newton: "You have been holding office practically all the time since you became of age. The Republican party has honored you time after time when you wanted the support of the party. Now the time has come when the party needs you, instead of you needing the party. This is apt to be a tough year for Republicans in Missouri. You can carry the State. How can you refuse to respond to this demand, which comes from the city and the country both?"

Newton is not sure he can respond. He modestly replies to those who present this argument that he does not share their views that he is the only man who can win, but at the same time he admits that he cannot lightly brush aside the urgent requests of men with whom he long has been associated in party work.

By no means was all of this information obtained from Newton when he was interviewed here at the home of his father. In fact most of it came from Republicans who have sought to induce him to enter the race. Newton had little time to say for publication.

Newton to Decide Later.

"I do not know what I am going to do," he said in reply to a direct question as to whether he intended to seek the governorship. "I have thought about it a good deal, but I will not decide until I return to St. Louis next week and have time to canvass the situation thoroughly."

"I thought when I announced my retirement from Congress that I would be forgotten in politics."

I DON'T SEE HOW I CAN AFFORD IT

Ex-Congressman, Anxious to Retire to Earn Money for Family, Will Determine His Course Later.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MIAMI, Mo., Aug. 30.—The one Republican question in Missouri for many weeks in the minds of the rank and file of party workers, as well as the so-called leaders has been, Is Cleveland A. Newton going to run for Governor?

It will be betraying no confidence to say that the same question has occupied the inconsiderable part of Newton's time in the several months he has been in the Ozarks recuperating from a serious and ineffectually trying to escape the importunities of the friends and others who have sought him out to impress upon him their political views.

The Tenth District Congressman, who voluntarily relinquished his seat, to which he probably could have been re-elected, as often as he cared to be, because he wished to return to the practice of law, is having a difficult time reaching a decision on the question of becoming a candidate for the nomination for Governor.

30 Years in Public Life. The bare fact is that in some 30 years of public service as a member of the Legislature, Assistant United States District Attorney in Kansas City, Missouri, Associate Circuit Attorney in St. Louis, Special Assistant United States Attorney-General and eight years as Congressman from the Tenth (St. Louis) District, Newton has not feathered his nest. There have been and are men in public life in Missouri who have grown at least moderately wealthy through the private practice of law, while holding official positions, but Newton is not one of them.

Now, beyond 60 years of age, he has taken stock and the necessity of devoting the remaining productive years of his life to an earning which will be in recognition of his obligations to his family, has presented itself to him.

The other four, if he were elected, would be a service to the public at a salary of $6,000 a year, plus a few extras to bring it up to about $6,500. Whether Newton or anybody else can have anything remaining from that salary when in the office for Governor.

The Pies of Party Necessity. And yet this is the way leading Republicans have presented the matter to Newton: "You have been holding other elective or appointment offices practically all the time you have come of age. The Republican party has honored you time after time when you wanted the support of the party. Now the time has come when the party needs you, instead of you needing the party. This is apt to be a tough year for Republicans in Missouri. You can carry the State, now you can refuse to respond to this demand, which comes from the city and the country both."

MAYOR ON STRIKE FOR PAY INCREASE; $750 NOT ENOUGH

J. D. Williams of Aberystwyth, Wales Won't Work for Less Than $2500 a Year.

By the Associated Press. ABERYSTWYTH, Wales, Aug. 30.—J. D. Williams, the Mayor of this Welsh town of 10,000 inhabitants, has gone on strike for an increase in salary. He demands £500 ($2500).

"The pauper 150 pounds ($750) you allow me has already been spent, and another 150 pounds besides," Williams told the Town Council. "If anybody wants to see my accounts, I have them. They will find more than 300 pounds spent, and that's putting it in plain English."

PROFITEERING RETAILERS IN ITALY THREATENED WITH EXILE

Rigid Punishment Considered by Government to Force Down Prices as Set by Law.

Copyright, 1927, by the French and Pulitzer Publishing Co., of New York and Post-Dispatch.

ROME, Aug. 30.—Banishment to one of the islands near Italy is being considered as a punishment for shopkeepers who refuse to sell goods at the prices which the State has set. Edmondo Rosso, head of the Fascist Labor Corporations, declared today that he was outlining the steps which the Fascist plan to take to enforce the lowering of retail food and clothing prices to correspond with the recent wholesale cuts.

He pointed out that several usurers and landlords who charged exorbitant rents have been sent to the penal settlements on islands around Italy. In Turin several retailers were fined and imprisoned for from six to ten days for profiteering. One restaurant proprietor who was fined and whose place was closed for two days, made up his loss on the first day he was open again.

The Fascist leaders declare this sort of thing is unfair to labor, which recently had to take a wage cut because of the lower wholesale prices. He said wholesale prices were now about five times what they were in pre-war days, but retail costs are still ten times of the pre-war scale.

RE-ELECTION OF LADY ASTOR OPPOSED IN OWN PARTY

Several Candidates Will Be Placed in Field Against Her in Next Election.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Plymouth correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says that a determined effort will be made to oust Viscountess Astor at the next general election. The Viscountess represents the Sutton division of Plymouth in Parliament.

Not only have the Liberal and Labor parties selected candidates to oppose her, he says, but the Plymouth Imperial Conservative Association announces that it has obtained a powerful candidate to oppose her. Thus Lady Astor will find opposition in her own party.

Viscountess Astor has held her seat since 1918. She was the first woman to sit in Parliament.

Chamberlain Goes to Geneva.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, left for Geneva this morning, accompanied by other members of the British delegation to the forthcoming League of Nations meetings. Viscount Cawdor, the Lord Chancellor, it is understood, will head the British delegation to Geneva, while Premier Baldwin is spending his vacation at Aix-les-Bains and during Sir Austen's absence.

and public life, but the result has been the opposite. I don't see how I can afford to be a candidate. I never have wanted to be a candidate, but I don't know now what I shall do."

Newton made one thing very clear, and that was that he has not at any time considered becoming a candidate for United States Senator. Several Republicans who would like to seek the governorship have been very busy bringing pressure to bear on Newton to be a senatorial candidate.

Looking for Opponent to Reed.

From the standpoint of practical politics, Newton knows, as does anyone familiar with conditions who thinks about it, that he would be a much stronger candidate against any Democrat for Governor than he would be against Senator Reed, the Senatorial Reed.

Newton has indicated an intention to retire from the senatorial and not seek renomination, the impression generally is that he will be forced by opinion in the Democratic party to file. The same argument will be used with him as is being used with Newton, that the party needs him. Democrats in positions of party leadership believe he will respond. As to Newton, there is no assurance that he will or will not be a candidate, but it certainly would not be a sure thing.

Capt. Reynolds and his aid were held by the Mexicans after they had been forced down near Ruidosa, State of Chihuahua. The aviators apparently escaped from their course which led to Kelly Field, San Antonio, from Arizone where they had unsuccessfully searched for Alfred Z. Menard, shell-shocked veteran lost in the desert.

RE-ELECTION OF LADY ASTOR OPPOSED IN OWN PARTY

Several Candidates Will Be Placed in Field Against Her in Next Election.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Plymouth correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says that a determined effort will be made to oust Viscountess Astor at the next general election. The Viscountess represents the Sutton division of Plymouth in Parliament.

Not only have the Liberal and Labor parties selected candidates to oppose her, he says, but the Plymouth Imperial Conservative Association announces that it has obtained a powerful candidate to oppose her. Thus Lady Astor will find opposition in her own party.

Viscountess Astor has held her seat since 1918. She was the first woman to sit in Parliament.

Chamberlain Goes to Geneva.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, left for Geneva this morning, accompanied by other members of the British delegation to the forthcoming League of Nations meetings. Viscount Cawdor, the Lord Chancellor, it is understood, will head the British delegation to Geneva, while Premier Baldwin is spending his vacation at Aix-les-Bains and during Sir Austen's absence.

and public life, but the result has been the opposite. I don't see how I can afford to be a candidate. I never have wanted to be a candidate, but I don't know now what I shall do."

Newton made one thing very clear, and that was that he has not at any time considered becoming a candidate for United States Senator. Several Republicans who would like to seek the governorship have been very busy bringing pressure to bear on Newton to be a senatorial candidate.

Looking for Opponent to Reed.

From the standpoint of practical politics, Newton knows, as does anyone familiar with conditions who thinks about it, that he would be a much stronger candidate against any Democrat for Governor than he would be against Senator Reed, the Senatorial Reed.

Newton has indicated an intention to retire from the senatorial and not seek renomination, the impression generally is that he will be forced by opinion in the Democratic party to file. The same argument will be used with him as is being used with Newton, that the party needs him. Democrats in positions of party leadership believe he will respond. As to Newton, there is no assurance that he will or will not be a candidate, but it certainly would not be a sure thing.

Capt. Reynolds and his aid were held by the Mexicans after they had been forced down near Ruidosa, State of Chihuahua. The aviators apparently escaped from their course which led to Kelly Field, San Antonio, from Arizone where they had unsuccessfully searched for Alfred Z. Menard, shell-shocked veteran lost in the desert.

While Reed has indicated an intention to retire from the senatorial and not seek renomination, the impression generally is that he will be forced by opinion in the Democratic party to file. The same argument will be used with him as is being used with Newton, that the party needs him. Democrats in positions of party leadership believe he will respond. As to Newton, there is no assurance that he will or will not be a candidate, but it certainly would not be a sure thing.

Newton to Decide Later.

"I do not know what I am going to do," he said in reply to a direct question as to whether he intended to seek the governorship. "I have thought about it a good deal, but I will not decide until I return to St. Louis next week and have time to canvass the situation thoroughly."

"I thought when I announced my retirement from Congress that I would be forgotten in politics

Our Mentally Afflicted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

HAVING occasion during the past week to visit a mentally afflicted friend in the observation ward of the city hospital, I wish to suggest to the city authorities that St. Louis is not doing its best for these most unfortunate of our citizens. I was shocked to find that such a dreary, dismal, prison-like place existed. I expected to find at least something homely and cheerful. Instead, after climbing stairs, for there is no elevator, one encounters steel doors, which do not open near the top through which visitors or incoming patients can be scanned. And there is barely standing room in front of these doors. Inside, one finds a small corridor, with cells on each side and a fair-sized ward with beds at one end. The patient is confined in one of these cells, lying on a small bed, with one wrist held in a stout strap fastened to the bed, and nothing to look at but the high-barred window at the foot of the bed. I suppose with sufficient help, all but the most violent cases could be permitted to enjoy some freedom, and surroundings that would not terrify but on the contrary help to cheer and improve their mental condition.

I suppose it is because patients are looked upon too much as mere "cases" that this condition exists. Or, is St. Louis behind the times in this regard? Surely some cities have progressed beyond this medieval way of treating the mentally afflicted.

CITIZEN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A S a recent immigrant from New York, I permit me to congratulate you upon your type of entertainment furnished the homes through KSD. It is altogether refreshing to have one station in a city like St. Louis which does not cater to jazz, "requests" and small-town advertising men.

Paine Not an Atheist.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Y OUR editorial calling attention to the lack of appreciation for Thomas Paine is very timely.

It will be a rare treat for lovers of literature to read the four important works of Thomas Paine under the titles "The Age of Reason," "The Rights of Man," "Common Sense" and the "Crisis." He is considered by many as the soul of the American Revolution. In those trying revolutionary days it was Paine's inspiring messages read to the boys at their campfires that had the effect of keeping them from being beaten and sent to fight on to victory. Paine was not an atheist, as some have cruelly charged; on the contrary, he is a firm believer in an all-loving universal intelligence guiding and ruling the universe. He was a firm believer in a future life. He had no use for falsehood, superstition and ignorance. When questioned about his religion his reply was: "The world is my country, all men are my brothers, and to do good is my religion." Can any religion expect anything nobler from any man or woman?

O. K.

An Indictment.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

F ORMAL relief, Mississippi flood relief, naval reconstruction, are more essential to the people of these United States than the tax reduction, roads and railroads and industrial profits are put on a preferred basis, and the farmers and small business men denied any relief from the exactions and extortions of contractors.

A few years ago the people were attempting to pass laws to restrict the acquisition of great fortunes. Today, the Government is the sponsor and defender of gigantic and overpowering corporate coalition. The Democratic party that once stood at the poor man's threshold to protect and to preserve his liberty, politically, socially, and industrially, is now seeking to enshrine the principles that control the Republic's prosperity and has delivered her bound and helpless to the headmen of the international plunder-bund and its arrogant princes.

The Mississippi may flood the valleys and farms of the Southland, and there is no relief nor great interest manifested. The farmers of the prairie states may seek the aid of their Government, but the answer is "reduce corporation taxes, and let the farmer go to the city" and join the army of the unemployed."

The rich man revels in wine and imported whisky. The poor man must pay a high price for wages to get a job; order to get a job, for "the drink child, Ye God!" and all this in the greatest and most patriotic and prosperous nation in the world.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

If ever a man was proved guilty by circumstantial evidence that man is Claude Harris of Webster Groves. And if Webster Groves did not have an extraordinary police officer in its Chief of Police, Andrew McDonnell, Harris would now be awaiting trial convicted by public opinion and as certain as anything in the future can be of being convicted by a jury of his peers.

The story as related in our news columns reveals a coincidence utterly improbable—few persons would hesitate to say impossible—and yet a fact.

J. M. Redfern was run down by an automobile and killed in Webster Groves Saturday night. To Chief McDonnell who appeared quickly on the scene eyewitnesses of the accident described the automobile as a decrepit Ford touring car, without State license tags and with the red glass missing from the tail light. The left front tire had been torn from the machine when it struck the victim and was found not far away. Chief McDonnell, with some of his men, followed the trail left by the bare rim.

They presently learned that the machine had lost a second tire which they found on the road side. They followed the twisting trail laboriously from road to road until at last it ended in a yard where a dilapidated Ford touring car was standing, with left front and right rear tires missing, without State license tags and with the red glass missing from the tail light. The owner of the car, Claude Harris, was arrested and taken to the police station. He insisted he was innocent so long and so earnestly that Chief McDonnell was finally convinced his prisoner was telling the truth and resolutely ordered his men to take up the search all over again.

Along the trail they finally came upon tracings of another car from which the tires on the left front and right rear wheels were missing. It was a slow, difficult task but the Chief and his men stuck to it and again finished in a yard where was parked the exact replica, almost, of Harris' car. A dilapidated Ford touring car, State license tags missing, red glass missing from the tail light, with but on all four wheels. Examination showed, however, that the rims of the left front and right rear wheels were dented and flattened and inquiry disclosed that the tires had been put on after the owner got home. The owner, Edgar Hudson, was arrested, practically admitted having run down a man, and a Coroner's Jury has held him for the Grand Jury.

The story, repeated here, will be repeated, we imagine, again and again and again wherever a lawyer is defending a client against whom the evidence is circumstantial. It would be too much to say that Chief McDonnell has shown circumstantial evidence of its power to convict, but it is not too much to say that he has put an argument in the mouth of every capable lawyer everywhere which will make juries hesitate long and anxiously before returning a verdict of guilty.

Many a man has been hanged—two men were electrocuted in Massachusetts the other day—on less evidence than that which the energy and ability of Chief McDonnell wove around Claude Harris. It was a brilliant piece of detective work—that pursuit of the first trail—but the acceptance of Harris' innocence and the renewal of the search and its successful conclusion were altogether admirable. Webster Groves has a real man and a rare police officer in Andrew McDonnell. Hail to the Chief. He has surpassed the exploits of fictional detectives and has admonished courts and juries to beware of circumstantial evidence.

the investigation of last spring were the dismissal of Enloe's critics inside the board, Messrs. Steinbeck and Kruse.

In other words, Gov. Baker's promise to reorganize the penal board has resulted only in strengthening the hand of the man responsible for the rotten condition of prison affairs. Is it any wonder that Mr. Sevier has found something to investigate? It is not.

WIDEN THE ST. CHARLES ROAD.

Unfortunately, the most used highway running out of St. Louis is not the widest. The Olive Street road, which carries but a fraction of the traffic on the St. Charles road, the State highway from St. Louis to Kansas City, is 24 feet wide whereas the St. Charles road is 18.

The Post-Dispatch has several times called the attention of the State Highway Commission to the congestion upon the St. Charles road, which should long ago have been widened to accommodate the pressure upon it. The St. Charles road is something more than a highway for work and pleasure cars from the city and the usual motor traffic with suburban communities out in that direction. It carries the great volume of east and west tourist traffic through St. Louis. At this season, when touring is at its height, the volume of through traffic over the State highway between St. Louis and Kansas City is enormous. It all tries to come into and go out of St. Louis over the St. Charles road, and when it is merged with the local traffic the road becomes all but impassable.

This situation, which is both a danger and an annoyance, grows steadily worse. The experience of last Saturday night, when the first crowd went out to the race track at the St. Charles and Warson roads, was not a great exaggeration of what is usually true of that congested highway. It took more than an hour that night to drive from Wellston to the race track, less than five miles. The road is twelve miles long. It should be for that distance, that is from St. Louis to the Missouri River, not less than twice as wide as it is now. It has been found necessary to make some of the highways between New York and Long Island 200 feet wide. Wherever there is a big city in the United States the growing traffic has made wider outlets necessary. It is so with St. Louis. The St. Charles road was the first concrete highway built out of St. Louis. By comparison with the pressing traffic it is in a way as primitive as the old rock road was when the automobile came in.

It is against the interests of both St. Louis and Missouri for the State to maintain upon its major highway such a bottleneck as the St. Charles road has become. The State Highway Commission should plan to widen it at once. It is a matter that has already been too long delayed. The Post-Dispatch urges the Commission to act.

SHOULD MEN REDUCE?

In publishing the results of experiments which prove that fat men are less efficient than slim ones, the Nelson laboratory may have aided the cause of efficiency, but it assuredly has struck good humor in the first trial—but the acceptance of Harris' innocence and the renewal of the search and its successful conclusion were altogether admirable. Webster Groves has a real man and a rare police officer in Andrew McDonnell. Hail to the Chief. He has surpassed the exploits of fictional detectives and has admonished courts and juries to beware of circumstantial evidence.

SHOULD MEN REDUCE?

From the Milwaukee Journal.

WILL IT TAKE ANOTHER FLOOD?

From the Milwaukee Journal.

FOR it is no superstition that there is an intimate relationship between humor and excessive avoidances.

The fat man, before and since Sir John Falstaff, has been the inspiration of most chuckles and guffaws. Perhaps the first laugh emitted by man was at the expense of some waddling brother. What is even more significant, most of the world's great humorists have not conformed to the ideal of a contemporary Paris modiste. Of Aristophanes and other ancients we know little, but of Rabelais and more modern humorists there can be no doubt. Rabelais' admiration for portly characters proves that he was no perfect 36 himself. Nor is any humorist of the day very different from him in this particular. Surely G. K. Chesterton, Irvin Cobb, and most of the rest of the fraternity bear no resemblance to the shapely gentlemen in tailoring advertisements.

Should men, therefore, heed the warning that fat men are less efficient than slim ones, and thereupon begin to reduce? For the sake of humor, we should answer with a determined negative. But will they probably do so anyway? We fear that they will. The shibboleth of efficiency, in this materialistic day, is all powerful. If some scientist should discover that one-legged men were more efficient than two-legged ones, would surgery experience a tremendous boom?

THE SPIRIT OF THE WEST.

It looks as if South Dakota did a service for the nation as well as itself when it brought the President out West for his vacation. He may not have solved any problems of state—say that important one pertaining to his own political future—but he has laid up a store of new energy with which to attack them. He has become, the news dispatches say, a happier man. Along with any number of trout, he has caught something of the "spirit of the West."

The West, with all the rest of the country, will rejoice at this news of the President's physical and mental well-being. There will be additional cause for gratification all around if the President will inoculate his New England conferees—Senator Bligh, for example, who is about to visit him—with some of the "spirit of the West." As we see it, the "spirit of the West" is the opposite of parochialism. It is the spirit in which the West, and, we believe, the whole country, want Congress to tackle the big Western problems that are pending.

LEVINE'S STUNT.

The science of aviation is not advanced by such an exploit as that of Charles A. Levine, an inexperienced pilot, in flying alone from Paris to London. Levine's awkward handling of his plane at the Croydon Field, where he came down with a "great bump and jump," caused the aviators there to expect the worst. He appears to have been saved from a crash only by the Providence which sometimes watches, inexplicably, over foolhardy stunts. Nor does Levine improve his own standing with the public by declaring that he is "through with all Frenchmen and French airmen." Levine should have rested on his laurels as the first trans-Atlantic air passenger. As an amateur and unofficial ambassador, he should be, paradoxically, given the air.

Writing Up to Childhood

THE MAGIC PAWNSHOP. By Rachel Field. Decorations by Elizabeth MacKinstry. (Dutton). STORIES for children are at least as numerous as books of verse and the really good ones are at least as rare as poetry. The source of failure is the same in both cases: Authentic poetry is written from the inside, whereas most aspirants for poetic laurels work from the outside. Most stories for children are written by adults who can no longer believe the child's consciousness. They therefore write down to the child. But to descend to a child is not the same as becoming a childlike. It is as though a sculptor, with no profound understanding of children, should attempt to represent a child's figure by modelling a diminutive adult. "The Magic Pawnshop" is a child's story written out of the child consciousness with a strongly felt but unobtrusive margin of adult understanding. The tale does not give the impression of stooping, but rather of rising from grownup matter-of-factness to that realm of facile wonder that age destroys for most. It is New Year's night, and Prinda Bassett, a very little girl, overhears the doctor saying that the night but a miracle can save her sick sister. She is unable to imagine a world without her in it, and therefore from her viewpoint it is truly remarkable to assume that a miracle is necessary to preserve the cosmic status quo, a friendly mind of some sort ought to be found knocking about almost anywhere.

Prinda set forth alone into the city streets to find a miracle, and, just as she expected, soon she came upon a shop where miracles and magic were regularly kept in stock just as a grocer would keep baking soda and salt for sale. This was the Magic Pawnshop, kept by old Minerva MacLoon, and you could scarcely name anything of a truly valuable abstract nature that she did not buy and sell.

Unfortunately, there is only one night in the year when retailers of the precious commodity can replenish their supply of magic, and that is New Year's night. A whole day had passed since Minerva had stocked up on miracles, and the demand for miracles and magic was enormous. So Minerva MacLoon was "just out" of miracles.

Nevertheless, she wanted nothing more than to mount Charley, the fractious broomstick, and go after the annual supply. This would be able to do if she could find some really trusty person to "keep store" during her absence. A really trusty person for such a job just not be too greatly burdened with what old people call common sense. They should, on the contrary, be tensely expectant and credulous.

Prinda had no difficulty in qualifying for the job and very soon she was in charge.

That things did happen. First of all there was a maiden who was in love with a wistful writer who was in love with his work; and the maiden, weary of being an apparently poor second to a manuscript.

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The Rev. Hillyer Hawthorne Stratton, son of Dr. John Roach Stratton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in New York, and Miss Alice Aven of Macon, Ga., were married here last Tuesday, it is announced. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father.

Both are 23 years old and now are in Canada on a honeymoon wedding trip. The Rev. Mr. Hillyer Stratton is pastor of the New Beacon Baptist Church of Philadelphia.

Warns Against Fund Swindle.

Reports that fake solicitors have been collecting money for the Archdiocesan campaign of Archbishop Glennon has caused Msgr. John J. Tannrath, executive chairman of the campaign, to issue a warning. When authorized collectors are sent out, Msgr. Tannrath said, it will be announced from every pulpit and the solicitors, he added, will be personally known to the prospective subscribers. Msgr. Tannrath has asked parishioners to notify the police if they find fake solicitors call at their doors and ask for funds.

TOMB OF EMPEROR NAPOLEON IN THE DOME DES INVALIDES, PARIS, FRANCE
In helpless sorrow people have unceasingly sought to preserve the precious remains of loved ones. Mortality cannot be avoided for it is the inevitable passing away. It would seem cruel that if in taking away, nature, dependent upon science, could not provide to keep the grave inviolate.

$3000 TAKEN IN HOLDUP OF DAIRY CONCERN'S OFFICE

Fat and Lean Robbers Order 3 Men, 2 Women to "Sit Still," Take Money From Desk Drawer.

A fat robber and a lean robber, both wearing overalls, held up five employees in the Pevely Dairy Co. branch office, $2111 Margaretta avenue, at 8:30 p. m. yesterday and escaped with $3000, the day's receipts.

Parking a stolen automobile outside, the youthful robbers walked to the second floor and held up Murray Whitehead, acting cashier; Albert Onder, branch manager; Fred Van Kranenburgh, a clerk, and Lydia Moore and Alma Meinz, stenographers.

"Sit still," ordered the jovial fat robber, holding two large revolvers. "These babies make a lot of noise when they go off. I hate to shoot anyhow."

The lean robber inspected the contents of the safe and then opened a drawer of Whitehead's desk, disclosing a pile of currency —$3000. He carried a sack under his arm and compelled Onder to fill the sack, telling him to work fast. Then he and his companion backed downstairs, got in the automobile and drove away.

The car was found abandoned later in the neighborhood. It was the property of William Krutiniger, 3908 North Twenty-second street, and had been stolen from in front of 5729 Natural Bridge avenue, where he was working.

A safe in the Pevely branch office was robbed of $2898 cash and $780 in checks April 5. An unsuccessful attempt to loot the safe was made two weeks ago.

An absent-minded thief who stole $220 from a safe in the Grimm & Gorly Floral Co., 712 Washington avenue, Sunday night, left his typewritten memorandum of the safe's combination inside of the safe. With the aid of this clew, police are investigating.

John Campbell, 6078 Cates avenue, and Henry Zoellner, 1410 Salisbury street, were waiting for a street car at Cherokee street and Michigan avenue, at 11:55 o'clock when two armed men stepped from an automobile and robbed them of $5.20.

Christ Steiner, 4445 Neosho street, reported a pocketbook containing $49 and a fishing license, was picked from him last night while he was attending an entertainment at Roosevelt High School.

Mrs. David Clippard, 1118A South Natural avenue, reported

$50 and a diamond ring which she valued at $100 were stolen from her home yesterday.

Total stock sales 1,796,500 shares.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Stock

prices encountered increased selling resistance in today's market

but, with few exceptions, they withstood repeated efforts of bear

traders to unsettle the general list. Cotton prices broke sharply on the arrival of the Government's bale survey report which was not as bullish as been anticipated, and further weakness developed in the grain markets.

High grade industrials were again the stock market leaders.

United States Steel Common,

General Electric and American

Can being among the score or so issues to attain new high ground.

General Motors, however, was unable to absorb the large offerings around the 250 level and settled back to 245 1/4, probably because the passing of the Pierce Arrow preferred dividend had temporarily dimmed speculative enthusiasm

for the motor group.

Trading showed a shrinkage in volume due, in part, to widespread expectations of a "technical reaction" after the practically uninterrupted advance since Aug. 13.

Except for a continuance of easy money rates, with a plentiful supply of call funds at the 3 1/4 per cent rate, there was little in the day's news to encourage bullish enthusiasm.

Renewed Weakness in Oils.

Renewed weakness of the oil shares followed the publication of the Atlantic Refining earnings report, which reported a net loss of nearly $1,500,000 in the first half of 1927, as compared with a net income of $1,250,000 in the same period of 1926. Atlantic Refining fining, which sold as high as 13 1/8

earlier in the year, reacted more than 3 points to 11 1/2 and then called a point. Houston broke from 131 to 123 1/4 and snapped back to 125 1/2. Texas & Pacific Land

Trust (old stock), which was recently split up 100 for 1, sold ad-

265, off 105 points from the previous sale.

United States Steel Common

moved up nearly 4 points to 14 1/8

and closed near the top on buying presumably influenced by reports that the DuPont interests had increased their holdings. Rock activities also were quite prominent in Colorado Fuel, General Asphalt,

International Business Machines,

Russia Insurance, and White Sewing Machine.

Bears After Pipe Stock.

A bear attack against U. S. Cast

Iron Pipe caused the price down to 139 1/2, as a result of the shorts

caused a quick rally to 140 1/2

200 level. Mackay Companies sold down nearly four points on a few

transactions, and selling pressure

was again apparent against Pittsburgh Coal, Sterling Products and Vulcan Dethming.

With the exception of Western

Maryland, which advanced 4 1/4 points to 55, most of the rails were under pressure as a result of the publication of another batch of disappointing July earnings statements and the statement of the Northwestern Pacific, that current business is still in the Northwest

territory, but that the improvement

was looked for in October.

Texas & Pacific broke 5 points and Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio, Rock

Island and other recent leaders sold down a point or more.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Exchange Market Firm.

Foreign exchanges held firm in quiet trading. Demand Sterling ranged around 4.85 1/16-13 and

French francs just under 3.92

cents. Some of the South American exchanges eased slightly on profit-taking.

No Action on Gary Successor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Directors of the United States Steel Corporation took no action today toward the election of a successor to the late Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board.

John A. Farrell, president of the corporation, presided at the meeting which was described as a regular meeting. The directors met in the death of Mr. Gary, and the death of Mr. Elbert H. Gary, the deceased chairman of the board.

"He will be easily missed," the resolution read. The action was taken in the organization methods and securities it is found that we hold

into the future with confidence and courage."

Coca Cola Dividend.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—Directors of the Coca Cola Co. decided to pay a regular quarterly dividend of $1.00 a share for the second quarter. The Federal tax was anounced as $3,040,000.

225 LETTERS RECEIVED IN ONE MAIL FOR BABE RUTH TEAM CONTEST

ENTRIES CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT TOMORROW

Letters Must Be Postmarked Before That Time to Gain Recognition by Judges—Thousands of Selections.

Deerfield, Colo.; Rundeman, N. C.; Marquette, Mich.; Quitman, Miss., and Los Angeles, Cal., submitted entries in the Post-Dispatch's Babe Ruth All-American team contest in yesterday's mail.

By actual count, the first batch of mail contained 225 teams and after the other deliveries of the day had been made, the total came well above the 200 mark.

The contest will close tomorrow at midnight. That means that a letter must be mailed no later than that time to receive recognition. Letters bearing a later postmark will be ineligible for consideration.

Babe Ruth is still looking over the teams picked by ten sports writers in the major league cities and racking his own brain and memory to select the team that Post-Dispatchers will be trying to pick for the new month.

Judges to Name Winners.

When Ruth's team is received at the Post-Dispatch, the judges will go over the thousands of entries sent in and make the comparisons which will decide the ultimate winners. Announcement of the winners will be made as soon as the judges complete their work.

As previously announced, the judges men of standing in the world of sports, are Robert L. Mathews, athletic director at St. Louis University; R. J. Collier, former sports editor of the old St. Louis Republic and J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News.

Never before has the Post-Dispatch received such a response from the fans as has been manifested in the steady stream of selections that have poured in since Aug. 1. The towns mentioned in the opening paragraph are only the far flung outposts of the big campaign that is embraced by the contest, or rather, that has embraced the contest.

Because of its uniqueness, the all-star team contest idea has grown steadily since it began instead of palling on the readers, and the total number of letters received in the present contest is sure to surpass that of any previous season. The appeal of the idea is universal because the game of baseball is universal. Boys of grade school age show surprising knowledge of the relative merits of major league players and the women fans have almost invariably selected their teams with marked intelligence.

The largest response, naturally, has been from the metropolitan areas but, considering the fact that rural readers rarely see major league games and nurture their love for baseball almost exclusively on the printed word and radio, they have been quick to accept the challenge of the greatest hitter the game has known and match their judgment against his.

The same is true of hospital patients, whose only contact with the baseball world is through headphones; prisoners in penitentiaries whose only view of the big league diamond is through the medium of story sports pages and letters from the world; and others who look out windows at stone walls or prairies.

Not much time now. Drop the letter in the box before tomorrow at midnight. Read the rules before making your selection.

RICHTER SHOOTS 65 AT COUNTRY CLUB

Benny Richter, left-handed professional golfer, of the Title A club, equaled the course record at the St. Louis Country Club yesterday with a card of 81-84-65. Jimmy Manion made the original record and it has since been duplicated by Art Longworth, County Club professional.

Richter had five birdies during his brilliant round and used only 31 putts. He drove the green on the 365-yard seventeenth.

CONTEST RECEIPTS

U. S. DOUBLES
PLAY ON; DOEG
AND LOTT WIN

Young Tennis Stars Easily
Defeat Newell and Shay,
Northwestern Champions,
6-1, 6-1, 9-7.

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—After a day spent in waiting for the rain to stop and the courts to dry, the forty-sixth annual national doubles tennis championship tournament got under way at the Longwood Cricket Club here today.

The entry list included the names of the country's foremost players, besides the French Davis Cup squad and the Japanese delegation which was defeated by France in the Davis Cup interzone finals here last week.

The sky was dotted with dark clouds as play started.

In the opening matches the largest gallery was drawn to the court on which John Doege of Santa Monica, Cal., former national junior singles champion, and George M. Lott Jr. of Chicago, conqueror of Rene Lacoste at Southampson, played against W. B. Newell and R. Shay, both of St. Paul, Minn., Northwestern champions.

Without exerting themselves Lott and Doege eliminated the Northwestern pair 6-1, 6-1, 9-7.

William T. Tilden II and Francis T. Hunter, all-American champions, won their first set, 6-0, 6-1, 6-0 from E. Pferd and L. Butt, both of Salt Lake City, intermountain champions.

Cranston Holman, San Francisco, and Lionel Ogden, Santa Monica, Cal., came from behind to win from Wilmel Allison, Fort Worth, Texas, National intercollegiate singles champion, and John Bur Dallas. By steady plugging from the back courts, the Californians broke down the Texans' resistance to win, 4-6, 9-7, 6-1, 6-4.

Little Work This Week.

A little time remains before the song rings out on International Field next Monday that it is unlikely that either the British or the Americans will get more than one good practice session before they answer the call of the referee. Even with the best of weather conditions, it will be possible to play polo Monday, and then the fields likely to be mushy.

With a break in luck, however, International Field ought to be in the very finest condition by next day. The magnificent stretch out, a handsome deep green as result of the incessant rains, is a wonderful sight. Rolled out, it ought to be perfection by the day of the big match.

Hinchcock is a Boxer.

Indeedly, it must not be thought that the players are enabled because they have been invited for them to play matches. Milburn, however, can be found any morning regardless of the weather, working with his ponies trying a few shots on J. Watson Webb's field at Westbury. Webb, naturally, is at home on the spot. Thomas J. Hitchcock Jr., a trainer with whom he boxes, the British spend quite a little time with their ponies, quartered at O'ree's Field working at the mounts lent him by Captain F. E. Guest, the British member of Parliament, who is a young Winston Guest. Institute on the American team, furthermore, the British are by no means ashamed to go back to principles; they all put in a day on a wooden horse.

Crowd Picks on Munn Instead of Indian Metoquah

Nebraska Giant Tried to Fight, but Lo, the Poor Indian, Wouldn't Let Him.

By Fairplay.

(Copyright, 1927.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The path of a young heavyweight is strewn with thorns. Chief among these are a desire upon the part of the managers of the fighter to get all the easy matches he can and then, if the fighter is to razz, throw a promising youngster in against a experienced veteran.

Monte Munn is the latest to feel the wrath of the crowd. Monte tried to make a fight of it last week with Chief Metoquah. The chief felt the force of Munn's huge left paw and went into a hedge. On the football field Monte would have known just what to do. In the squared circle it was quite another thing. The scrap wound up by the referee ordering Metoquah out of the ring.

The crowd "bore down" on Munn. It was unfair. It was not the fault of the manager that Metoquah would not fight. The latter with a record of going the first round against Chuck Wiggins four times and against Tom Sayers and Young Stribling two times, was considered good enough to extend Munn.

"Building Up" New Stars.

Munn will have to understand that in Greater New York he will be pitted against the best or the worst. There is no half way about it. The best are attracted to New York and the worst hang around the gymnasiums trying to pick up a few dollars working out with the good ones, or they are picked just to furnish quick knockouts for rising heavyweights.

6-1, 6-1, 9-7.

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—After a day spent in waiting for the rain to stop and the courts to dry, the forty-sixth annual national doubles tennis championship tournament got under way at the Longwood Cricket Club here today.

The entry list included the names of the country's foremost players, besides the French Davis Cup squad and the Japanese delegation which was defeated by France in the Davis Cup interzone finals here last week.

The sky was dotted with dark clouds as play started.

In the opening matches the largest gallery was drawn to the court on which John Doege of Santa Monica, Cal., former national junior singles champion, and George M. Lott Jr. of Chicago, conqueror of Rene Lacoste at Southampson, played against W. B. Newell and R. Shay, both of St. Paul, Minn., Northwestern champions.

Without exerting themselves Lott and Doege eliminated the Northwestern pair 6-1, 6-1, 9-7.

William T. Tilden II and Francis T. Hunter, all-American champions, won their first set, 6-0, 6-1, 6-0 from E. Pferd and L. Butt, both of Salt Lake City, intermountain champions.

Cranston Holman, San Francisco, and Lionel Ogden, Santa Monica, Cal., came from behind to win from Wilmel Allison, Fort Worth, Texas, National intercollegiate singles champion, and John Bur Dallas. By steady plugging from the back courts, the Californians broke down the Texans' resistance to win, 4-6, 9-7, 6-1, 6-4.

Little Work This Week.

A little time remains before the song rings out on International Field next Monday that it is unlikely that either the British or the Americans will get more than one good practice session before they answer the call of the referee. Even with the best of weather conditions, it will be possible to play polo Monday, and then the fields likely to be mushy.

With a break in luck, however, International Field ought to be in the very finest condition by next day. The magnificent stretch out, a handsome deep green as result of the incessant rains, is a wonderful sight. Rolled out, it ought to be perfection by the day of the big match.

Hinchcock is a Boxer.

Indeedly, it must not be thought that the players are enabled because they have been invited for them to play matches. Milburn, however, can be found any morning regardless of the weather, working with his ponies trying a few shots on J. Watson Webb's field at Westbury. Webb, naturally, is at home on the spot. Thomas J. Hitchcock Jr., a trainer with whom he boxes, the British spend quite a little time with their ponies, quartered at O'ree's Field working at the mounts lent him by Captain F. E. Guest, the British member of Parliament, who is a young Winston Guest. Institute on the American team, furthermore, the British are by no means ashamed to go back to principles; they all put in a day on a wooden horse.

Crowd Picks on Munn Instead of Indian Metoquah

Nebraska Giant Tried to Fight, but Lo, the Poor Indian, Wouldn't Let Him.

By Fairplay.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The path of a young heavyweight is strewn with thorns. Chief among these are a desire upon the part of the managers of the fighter to get all the easy matches he can and then, if the fighter is to razz, throw a promising youngster in against a experienced veteran.

Monte Munn is the latest to feel the wrath of the crowd. Monte tried to make a fight of it last week with Chief Metoquah. The chief felt the force of Munn's huge left paw and went into a hedge. On the football field Monte would have known just what to do. In the squared circle it was quite another thing. The scrap wound up by the referee ordering Metoquah out of the ring.

The crowd "bore down" on Munn. It was unfair. It was not the fault of the manager that Metoquah would not fight. The latter with a record of going the first round against Chuck Wiggins four times and against Tom Sayers and Young Stribling two times, was considered good enough to extend Munn.

"Building Up" New Stars.

Munn will have to understand that in Greater New York he will be pitted against the best or the worst. There is no half way about it. The best are attracted to New York and the worst hang around the gymnasiums trying to pick up a few dollars working out with the good ones, or they are picked just to furnish quick knockouts for rising heavyweights.

Big Fish in Little Puddle.

THE Yankees are amassing a "miracle" team reputation by the rough-and-tumble in which they have ridden over all rivals, particularly our Browns. Nothing in modern history, that the writer has been able to find, reveals such fast as beating a rival club 15 successive times in the same season, as New York has beaten St. Louis.

But it isn't alone the Browns that have been trounced—the Yanks have toyed with the entire league. They stand out like a piece of Limburger cheese in a perfumery store.

A Tophe League.

AND yet the suspicion grows that it is not altogether the Yanks' strength that has produced their great showing. It may be the weakness of the opposition.

An examination of the season's campaign shows that, excepting the Yanks, the clubs of the league are in-and-outers of the worst sort. They take turns going into long winning streaks and following them with equally amazing slumps.

Hornsby's way was much smoother than O'Farrell's has been; but the Cards are right there with the leaders today.

It might have been a very different matter however, had not Frankie Frisch been available to step in with his marvelous playing and his fine spirit that lent inspiration and strength both to the club.

Lull in the Debate.

THE boys are going to have a hard time guessing the Tunney-Dempsey affair. At present there is a lull in the debate, while the followers of each man try to assemble some convincing arguments.

The clairvoyants will have to admit one thing—and when that's admitted they don't know what to do about it. It is:

Dempsey is a better man than was when first he fought Tunney, by two hard fights and three training periods.

What effect that is going to have on the fight itself remains to be seen.

Whereas Dempsey before had not fought for four years, and fought Tunney under discouraging mental and physical conditions, the Dempsey of Sept. 22 will have been tuned up by two contests and plenty of conditioning.

On the other hand, this time it will be Tunney who has not fought.

Gene has not battled since the last championship, and that's not good, either.

But exactly what difference the change will make is where the boys weary the old gray matter. And it can't be figured.

Dempsey will be better, but how much or how little?

You tell 'em, bo.

Has Engaged in
His Last Fight

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—IDEL LA BARBA has formally relinquished the world's flyweight boxing championship he wrested from Frankie Genaro of New York in 1925.

In a letter to the State Athletic Commission yesterday George V. Blake, his manager officially announced that La Barba on August 23 engaged in his last professional boxing contest. On that occasion he defeated Johnny Vacca of Boston

MISSOURI COMMISSION
SUSPENDS JOE RIVERS

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 30.—Suspension of Joe Rivers, Kansas City bantamweight boxer, for six months for failure to make weight for his fight last Thursday night in Kansas City with Tony Canzoneri was announced today by Ben J. Harrison, secretary of the Missouri Athletic Commission. Rivers was found to be a necessity. O'Farrell and his associates have really done more under far worse conditions with this club, than did Hornsby.

Last year Hornsby had little to do with the club, either as player or manager, or both. The Cardinals were deprived of four chances to make weight for his fight last Thursday night in Kansas City with Tony Canzoneri was announced today by Ben J. Harrison, secretary of the Missouri Athletic Commission. Rivers

Rain did this and the threat of rain. One of these days some major league team will lose a pennant because it monkeyed with the shift.

It is the shift worth while" was held before the members of the Kiwanis coaching school here recently.

Glen S. "Pop" Warner, Leland Standard coach, represented the negative side, and Dr. Clarence W. Spears, University of Minnesota football coach, took the affirmative. No decision was cast as to whether the shift was worth while.

Coach Warner, who piloted the western team through a perfect season last fall, said that one outstanding factor that showed the shift was not necessary and not to be compared with the set for-mation, was that the shift went through the 1925 season.

The team cited were Leland Standard, Brown, Lafayette and the University of Alabama.

No Value Legally.

"Many of the better teams in the country don't use the shift and many of the outstanding coaches don't believe in it," the western coach declared. The Navy gridiron team which has been noted for its outstanding football squads for many years,

UZCUDUN TO OPPOSE HEENEY ON SEPT.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Ferd Uzcludun, Spanish heavyweight boxer, was matched yesterday Tom Heeney of New Zealand in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden here, Thursday, Sept. 1. The fight is a return match as Uzcludun defeated Heeney in 10 rounds at the Garden April 1. It will be the Spanish fighter's first return since he lost to Jack Delaney on a foul at the Yankees Stadium, Aug. 11.

NATIONAL DOUBLES EVENT OPENS TODAY

Richards' conversion to the professional ranks forced Williams to seek another partner so he teamed

AT KIRKSVILLE CAPTURES ILLINOIS LEAGUE FLAG; FIGHT FOR SECOND PLACE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 30.—As a result of games played in the Illinois League last week-end, Kirksville will win the pennant in the league, but second place is still in doubt with Moberly and Hannibal the strongest contenders.

Last week-end Moberly defeated Hannibal, 5 to 0; Macon won from Centralia, 5 to 3, and Kirksville defeated Brookfield, 5 to 2.

The official standing of the teams in the league follows:

TEAM	WON	LOST	PCT.
Kirksville	15	6	.714
Hannibal	10	9	.526
Moberly	11	10	.524
Brookfield	9	10	.474
Macon	8	11	.421
Centralia	6	13	.316

Next Sunday Moberly will play at Brookfield, Centralia at Macon and Kirksville at Hannibal.

On Labor Day, Centralia will play at Moberly, Brookfield at Macon and Kirksville at Hannibal.

SIX WOMEN CHAMPIONS WILL DEFEND TITLES IN CALIFORNIA MEET

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—With entries for the National Women's Track and Field Championship at Eureka, Cal., next Saturday continuing to flow into meet headquarters steadily, officials were certain today that the meet would produce many feminine Olympic aspirants.

Six national champions have already turned in entry blanks and will be on hand to defend the eight titles held among them. They are Lillian Copeland of Pasadena, holder of three championships: the shot put, javelin throw, and discus throw; Rita Cartwright of Eureka, 50-yard titleholder; Frances Eddie, San Francisco, 220-yard champion; Helen Filley, Chicago, hurdles champion; Catherine McGuire of St. Louis, champion high jumper, and Nellie Todd of Chicago, broad jump titlist.

NAVY GRID SQUAD

ALMOST READY FOR SCRIMMAGE PRACTICE

By the Associated Press.
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 30.—Navy's gridironers, now engaged in "tackling the dummy" and pushing machines, will graduate into the serious work of scrimmage before the end of the week, it was announced by academy officials today.

Preparatory to more strenuous practice, 28 men yesterday were assigned to the "B" or "cannon fodder" squad, leaving 48 on the varsity. Athletic Director Ingram expects to add 18 more "B's" to the group from midshipmen now on vacation, with a view to hardening his charges for their tilt with Davis and Elkins here Oct. 1.

5 Points for

MOTORISTS about to tour on vacation —

1 Easy Riding

U. S. Royals are true balloon design. This means easy riding at proper pressure. Plenty of Rubber correctly placed has much to do with it.

2 Grip

Plenty of Rubber—of the right kind and under the right treatment—gives grip to treads instead of slip. You do not have to apologize for the performance of U. S. Royals.

3 Economy

U. S. Royals are economical. They cost no more than ordinary good tires in the first place. They deliver full mileage. They give transportation "without trouble."

4 Resiliency

U. S. Royals may be compared with an athlete in prime condition. The famous sprayed rubber, used exclusively in U. S. Royal Cords, is like the athlete's muscle—full of spring and rebound.

5 Insurance

Ordinarily, insurance demands a premium. Plenty of Rubber in U. S. Royals is a plus without penalty. U. S. Royals do not develop unexpected weaknesses. Their use is insurance that your tires will be in commission whenever you call upon them.

PLenty of RUBBER IN U.S. ROYAL CORDS — and they cost no more

TODAY'S NEWS TODAY
ST. LOUIS PM

VOL. 79, NO. 358.
SAYS GRAND JURY
WILL INVESTIGATE
CORONER BOPP

Prosecutor Mueller of St. Louis County Declares He Will Call Alleged Irregularities to Its Attention.

BODY WILL MEET
NEXT OCTOBER

Inquiry Will Be Directed Especially to the Matter of Fees and Costs, Attorney Asserts.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of St. Louis County today announced he would have the grand jury which convenes in October investigate alleged irregularities in the official conduct of Coroner Louis H. Bopp.

The investigation, Mueller said, would be to determine if there had been any violations of Section 5943, revised statutes, which reads:

Any Coroner, who shall knowingly charge to any person, or present to the County Court for allowance, any items of fees, costs and expenses not authorized by law, or for any service not actually performed, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall forthwith be removed from office.

Fee for Constable.

An investigation by the Post-Dispatch, as told yesterday, disclosed that Coroner Bopp included in his reports to the County Court fees of $1 to the Constable of a township in which a body is found. The fee purported to be payment for the Constable's service in summoning a jury, despite the fact that Bopp himself summons the Coroner's juries, usually by stick.

In his head out of his Kirkwood undertaking establishment, calling to persons loitering near by. Payment of fees to constables in cases where the juries were impaneled by the constables but by the Coroner, seemingly is covered by the statute's reference to "any service not actually performed," Prosecutor Mueller said.

Another Point for Inquiry. The grand jury will be asked to determine also, Mueller added, whether Section 5920, which specifies that a Coroner's jury shall consist of six men, householders of the township where the body is found, has been violated. It has been Coroner Bopp's practice to hold all inquests at his Kirkwood shop, which is in Bonhomme township, with Kirkwood men as jurors, regardless of where the bodies were found.

Each juror gets $1 fee for each inquest, as paid by the constables but by the Coroner, seemingly is covered by the statute's reference to "any service not actually performed," Prosecutor Mueller said.

Charges that Coroner Bopp, in order to benefit his undertaking business, disregards the law concerning inquests, were made Monday by John G. Koch, Fenton undertaker, as told yesterday. Koch said Coroner Bopp invariably took bodies to his undertaking establishment, making it easier to obtain a contract for the funeral, and immediately dispatched a "salesman to the home to get them to sign on the dotted line," Bopp did not reply to this.

The dual role of Coroner Bopp and Undertaker Bopp attracted attention when the Coroner refused to hold an inquest in the case of a man killed by an automobile before the funeral had been given to Undertaker Koch instead of to Louis H. Bopp Undertaking Co. The Coroner later changed his mind and held an inquest, after the Sheriff had made an arrest in the case.

It was erroneously stated in the Post-Dispatch yesterday that a law passed by the last Missouri Legislature prohibits a Coroner from engaging in business as a private undertaker.

A bill to forbid Coroners to act as embalmers or funeral directors in any case in which a Coroner's request was held, was passed by the Legislature, but was vetoed by Gov. Baker.

ANTI-FLOGGING BILL PASSED

Makes Masked Assaults a Felony in Alabama; Goes to Governor.

MONROVIA, Ala., Aug. 31.—The anti-flogging measure making it a felony to whip or assault any person in Alabama when wearing a mask, was passed by the Senate yesterday without debate. The vote was 19 to 6.

The bill now goes to the Governor for signature.
